

Anima

"I founded Anima in 1998 to create an elite group of professional musicians who love to play together and wanted to elevate the level of classical music provided for corporate and private events.

Our musicians are all active performers and may be seen at Symphony Hall and Jordan Hall as well as in the corner playing background music for social events! I love to be creative and am happy to explore new instrument combinations and repertoire so that your event can be unique. From intimate ensembles with two to three artists, to large orchestras, anything is possible!"
